

The Frowning Vajajays of Shady Pines

Walkers and wheelchairs may be the norm; funerals may be commonplace. But that doesn't get Lila, Marilyn and Peggy down, three of the southern belles that live at Shady Pines Retirement Home. Normally quite happy playing bridge, attending Bingo games and flirting with their physical therapist, the ladies get along until thrown a curve ball - Lila's assignment of the new roommate, Bertie Wright. Suddenly, Bertie, who is African American, throws a little more color into a mostly all white retirement home - in more way than one. If you're thinking 'old dogs can't learn new tricks' - think again! Funny, controversial and poignant, this comedy drama brings both laughter and tears.
